CasaTunes really is the ultimate in multi zone audio solutions. With the ability to run up to 9 sources in up to 48 rooms including simultaneously running up to 3 tracks of a connected iPod in different rooms, the possibilities are endless. You can also choose from music stored on any hard drive on your network, from thousands of internet radio stations, or from external devices plugged into the server. Just choose a server based on your desired number of rooms, add a wireless kit and you are ready to go. The whole system can be supplied customised for your home.

The system can use a variety of amplification options. We suggest our Channel Vision range of products, which offer both a 12 channel (6 zone) amplifier as well as 2 channel in room zone amplifiers for more flexibility. All amps have auto power on for each zone to help save power.

The optional keypads used in each room allow the user to control all features of the system. Users can enable DND (Do Not Disturb) mode, and turn on or off all zones in the house with the press of a button.

All of these functions are controlled by a beautiful white backlit touch screen. When switched on, the keypads display the current input, volume, track name and progress, or channel name. When the zone is turned off the keypad displays the current time.

The free iPhone / Android app for CasaTunes allows you to control the music in any room, or multiple rooms simultaneously with zone groups. The app has two-way control via wi-fi, which allows you to see what is running in each room as well as the volume and cover art.

You can even set a wake up time and sleep timer from your phone to use the system as your personal alarm clock, allowing you to wake up to music of your choice.
