LSA are musicians and music lovers, so we design our integrated amplifiers in that spirit - to convey the essence of music. Organic sound seems to soothe even the most hardened audiophiles, and has an immediate appeal to music lovers who would otherwise find hair-splitting A-B comparisons quite daunting. You can always expect that anything LSA put their name on sounds like music.

Our goal is to offer beautiful sound in a beautiful package while avoiding the farthest reaches of the price spectrum. We do this, not by employing the latest and greatest esoterica, but by listening and properly matching quality components.
